

Flagler College

PrinterOn Education provides a flexible BYOD printing solution for Flagler students

The Customer: Flagler College, St. Augustine, Florida

Flagler is a private liberal arts college celebrating its 45th year and is ranked by US News & World Report as one of "America's Best Colleges." The school's historic campus is located just four miles from the Atlantic Ocean in the heart of St. Augustine, Florida, the "nation's oldest city."

"The PrinterOn solution has integrated with our print management systems perfectly. If a user wants to print anywhere, they can easily on any device even with our requirement for end user authentication to process print jobs. It is one of the more heavily used systems on campus and just works. We rarely have to do anything to the system."

Customer Benefits

- PrinterOn fully supports Flagler's BYOD program, students can print from tablets, smartphones, laptops
- Seamless integration with Print Manager Plus for print tracking and cost accounting
- Active Directory integration provides user authentication for every print job
- No expensive hardware or costly add-ons, turnkey solution

The Challenge

- Previously, all printing was done on lab machines and individuals had no way of remotely submitting print jobs other than being on a campus computer system
- So many students had their own devices, Flagler needed a flexible BYOD print option
- The solution needed to work with the existing print management system but not be management intensive itself

The Solution

Flagler College chose PrinterOn Education for their mobile printing solution. The solution is an on-premise solution and was deployed on campus servers. There are 5 PrinterOn-enabled printers situated around campus that students can print to from any personal device such as tablets, smartphones or laptops. Authentication is done through the PrinterOn integration with Active Directory. A user simply authenticates via their network account, selects the printer and accepts the charge for their prints.

Flagler takes a different approach regarding print charges. Instead of charging for prints starting from the first print, students are given a $50.00 print allowance each semester. Print charges are automatically calculated via Print Manager Plus depending on the printer (color, b/w etc.) and are deducted per page. Flagler also provides a cover page for each user's print job at no extra charge to them.

The PrinterOn-enabled printers are marketed heavily on campus. Instructions for how to use them are on Flagler's website support pages and printers have signs near them letting them know they are PrinterOn-enabled. The students mobile devices will also automatically see printers near their area via the geo-location features within the PrinterOn mobile apps for iOS and Android.

Because the PrinterOn solution can be extended with a simple license purchase, Flagler can easily add printers as they grow and use the system more.
