PrinterOn®
PRINT SIMPLY ANYWHERE

PrinterOn provides Liverpool University students and faculty a BYOD print solution with print management integration

Benefits & Results

☑ BYOD support, students can print from any device

☑ PrinterOn integrates seamlessly with their Equitrac print management system for job accounting and authentication

☑ Print jobs are dropped into the Equitrac Follow-You queue enabliling secure release from any printer

UNIVERSITY OF LIVERPOOL

Background

Located in Liverpool, England with about 21,000 students, the University of Liverpool is one of the great centers of research, knowledge and innovation. Their pioneering reputation attracts students, experts and partners from around the world. Through research, teaching and collaborations they seek to be life changing and world shaping.

Challenge

Prior to PrinterOn, the University of LIverpool provided their students with the ability to print from their own mobile devices through their Equitrac® Express print management solution which was complicated and not efficient. Liverpool wanted an easier more efficient way for students to print using their own devices to support their BYOD printing environment. They also needed to take advantage of their existing Equitrac Express print management solution for accounting and print release, so the solution had to integrate seamlessly with it as well.

Solution

PrinterOn provided Liverpool with the PrinterOn Enterprise Solution. Students and staff can now print from their own devices by sending documents to one Equitrac Follow-You print queue and release their job securely at any print device across the university. The entire process is validated and accounted for to prevent unauthorized usage.

The PrinterOn workflow and integration with Equitrac provides simple, flexible and secure enterprise printing solutions for students and staff. In addition, PrinterOn also provides a zero-configuration environment for students who bring their own mobile devices and want to print from them.

The University of Liverpool is very happy with the PrinterOn secure mobile printing solution. The previous inconvenience that was encountered with other solution is now gone and students and faculty now have more time to spend on education and research, which is what the University of Liverpool is famously known for.

800.990.2234 | info@acd-inc.com | acd-inc.com/printeron

ACDI