Background

Headquartered in Chicago, Illinois, QST Industries has 50 locations and is the world's largest supplier of quality construction components to the apparel industry. QST was originally established in 1880 and is a privately held company currently enjoying the fifth generation of ownership and is uniquely positioned to serve the apparel industry on a global basis.

Challenge

The company's executives and mobile employees needed a solution to make mobile printing from iOS and Android devices to corporate offices and plants around the world easier and more convenient when traveling. Another inconvenience for them was only being able to print to a hotel printer while they were actually in the hotel. A third challenge was directly affecting the QST IT department. They were constantly having to install print drivers on guest users' laptops so they would be able to print while visiting a particular location. All three of these challenges needed to be solved to allow the company's employees to work more efficiently and productively.

Solution

These challenges were easily met through a deployment of PrinterOn Express Edition. With the installation of PrinterOn Express, QST now has the benefits of a secure, easy mobile printing solution allowing them to print to any office they require, from any device they are using, from wherever they are.

Using the PrinterOn mobile apps, QST employees can also search for and print to any hotel that has the PrinterOn service while staying there for business. Also, QST IT no longer has to deal with the constant struggle of setting up print drivers and environments for guests at every office employees travel to.

With PrinterOn Express, QST now has a secure, mobile print solution that meets all of their needs and employees can spend more time being productive whether in the office or while traveling.
